6. Module 2 is the REQUIRED Module. Click "Module 2" to start the video.

The screenshot shows the "Training Modules" page on the Jason Foundation website. The page lists four modules with their respective descriptions and video thumbnails. A red circle highlights the "Module 2" section, indicating it is the required module.

- Module 1

This training module provides specialized training for educators, law enforcement, youth leaders and others who work closely with youth. This training is an overview of the magnitude of the problem of youth suicide and provides information on awareness and the prevention of youth suicide. It also includes statistical data, signs of concern of possible suicidal thoughts, elevated risk factors and resources for help.
- Module 2

This training is a more in-depth study of the problem of youth suicide and how teachers/youth workers can make a difference by gaining the tools and resources to help an at-risk student. It emphasizes ESQs of observation, identification and intervention to hopefully direct a positive future for a young person who may be suffering from suicidal ideation. Information from experts is included as well as a discussion of some of the mental health issues surrounding suicidal ideation.
- Module 3

This training module gives teachers and youth leaders practical information to establish a plan of action for the school and the teacher if suicide ideation is suspected or identified in a student. Suggestions for designing protocols of action to promote a safe environment and what actions to take for the teacher and the school at large are included. Prevention is the key and this module is a guide to being proactive in establishing the best possible attributes for the prevention of youth suicide or suicide attempts.
- Module 4

In this training module, Dr. Kenneth Tullis shares his extensive research into the history of suicide prevention. He shares how religion, the law and science have all played a part in developing suicide prevention efforts and explores whether suicide is a sin, a crime, or has something to do with mental health. You will find this study to be interesting and informative.
